ONE MINUTE NEWS
ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLEOld Sol Can Be A Tough Enemy

Most everyone looks on the sun as a good friend. But actually, Old Sol can be a mighty tough customer, especially for the men of our industrial buildings.

Under the scorching heat of the sun, industrial fires—those which weak spots develop—inevitably break out. Even better, industrial fires may break out on walls or ceiling, water often penetrates the insulation, causing it to rot and causes damage to sidewalls and inside roofing structures.

If you have an office building, we suggest that you call in your A-E roof contractor for a check-up. A careful survey of your roof—tell us your exact condition. We'll give you advice on any re-roofing that may be needed. horses and horses, in connection with fires at a home and in a woods patch. Both police reported, however, that the arson charges against the men were unfounded.

LINE, WHICH had 12 deaths and $30,000,000 of the property lost, still was the prime danger spot.

Fires had blackened 100,000 acres of land in the West End. The blazes were spotted from the New Hampshire line to the Canada River. They were well in hand last night, however, except in York County, where flames moved into the town of Franklin. The blazes were spotted from the Saco River west to within a half mile of the village of Clark-ton. Besides 13 dead, there were 14 injured seriously enough to be in hospital and 17 listed as missing by the Red Cross, in charge of relief work, also listed 2,500 homes, another 3,300 displaced, 830 houses destroyed, 1,000 trees and 100 poles destroyed, another 100 permanent homes damaged. The Red Cross, in charge of relief work, also listed 2,500 homes, another 3,300 displaced, 830 houses destroyed, 1,000 trees and 100 poles destroyed, another 100 permanent homes damaged.

DISCUSSION THAT some of

Marxists had been sent to the point to where "burned in."

In his statement today he urged a "direct majority voting system" for the election, which would have a "sovereign majority."

De Gaulle called the Oct. 19 election results at marking the 10th anniversary of the Communist party in France—or the "Separatists" as he commonly referred them.

"The Separatists lost at the very least one-seventh of their voters," he declared. "It is the beginning now are 34, with a waist just over 24 inches. Before the royal tour he had 36 bust and hips.

RETURNS FROM about 3,500 of the communities voting gave these results:

Radical Socialists—4,007 councillors elected.

Socialists—2,610.

Radicals—281.

Communists—238.

MPF—365.

Marxist—Republi-

licans—772.

Despite the R.P.P.'s comparative poor showing in these returns, political observers believe that when the popular vote for the election is taken into account, Gaulle's party would retain a clear majority.

THE VOTING A week ago was finished in all places having a population of more than 9,000. Yesterday's small town elections were to the popular vote, the candidates previously had obtained majorities. Only a plurality was needed.

The elections generally were reported orderly. Violence flared, however, in some Paris suburbs and rioting took place. Municipal councils met to vote for mayors and other city officers.

At Lyon, Merriot was re-elected mayor, having been mayor for 20 years. The 75-year-old Radical Socialist leader had said he would not be a candidate, but finally yielded to the urging of friends.

Loot, Rape and Kill
Pathans Wage Bloody War in Kashmir State

By Walter Mason

NEW DELHI, Oct. 27.—(CP)—An Indian Government official said yesterday 2,000 Pathans from Pakistan's rugged northwest frontier province have invaded sections of the princely state of Kashmir and looted, raped and killed.

V.P. MENON, secretary of India's mission of state, returned from the Kashmir capital of Srinagar with the report. He said the Pathans, who are British subjects, broke into the mountain border town of Muzaffarabad, 80 miles west of Srinagar, and were fighting against the Hindu and Sikh families.

Unconfirmed reports that the invaders had been welcomed by the state force within 35 to 40 miles of Srinagar. An authoritative New Delhi source predicted that the Pathans will be repelled when the Indian forces return.

Other informants declared Pathans had crossed into Gilgit, which lies only a short distance from the Russian border, and engaged in similar tactics.

Other published reports here said that the Dominions of India

Feel Bar Harbor
Will be Rebuilt

BAR HARBOR, Me., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Influential citizens predicted last night that Bar Harbor, two years after a disastrous forest fire, will be rebuilt and again will be perhaps on less land a second summer playground.

"We all feel that the town will be reconstructed," said Sheldon Collier, president of the Bar Harbor Banking and Trust Co. "We have lost our larger homes but the young ones are still around ... although their homes will be on a smaller scale."

Luxurious estates of Foster Palmer, lumber magnate, and Waler Danforth, Novelist Mary Roberts Rinehart and William P. Hammon, author of "The Thin Man," were among the more pretentious that went up in flames.

Now They Rob Customers

Bank burglars are no longer content to break into the strong-room and carry off a bank's cash. They now blow a hole in the vault and loot the safety deposit boxes of the bank's customers. The latest of a series of such depredations is reported from Winnipeg.

This change from robbing banks to robbing bank patrons is a tactical mistake on the part of the burglars. For the reason that the patrons are far more numerous than the share-holders and officials of a bank. And now that they are being attacked they are sure to start a wide and vigorous demand that something drastic be done about it.

The plain fact is that neither party wants a formula which would satisfy the other. That being the case, the Assembly will sooner or later have to take its courage in hand and draw up a settlement plan that will be fair to both disputants as the circumstances permit—and then back that plan with whatever action may be necessary to enforce it.

Putting off the day of decision will accomplish nothing, except to make the quarrel more bitter, and perhaps arouse hopes which in the end will have to be disappointed.

The sub-committees are quite likely to hand the whole matter back to the Assembly—to whom it belongs—with a recommendation that the majority report of the special committee be accepted as the starting point for working out an arrangement.

standing illustration of this paradox. Millions will note and remember the burning of the famous resort. But few will think about and remember the destruction the same day of many square miles of timber, possibly of greater value. It is time to readjust our perspective in this matter. A town can be rebuilt in a matter of months. A forest takes a half-century to grow.

Round and Round

Canada backed Russia in proposing that a plan for the settlement of the Palestine imbroglio be worked out on the basis of the majority report from the United Nations special committee. But they lost out, and the General Assembly sent the whole problem along to two sub-committees with instructions only that they find some solution.

That merely postpones the day when the Assembly will have to take a stand on the proposal. Meanwhile the sub-committees will start from scratch and do the wrangling all over again. They were told to produce the happy solution by Oct. 29th, but probably nobody expects they will do it.

What the Assembly is looking for is a formula which will suit both Jews and Arabs. It may be expected to find about the time some one discovers what happens when an irresistible force comes into collision with an immovable object.

The plain fact is that neither party wants a formula which would satisfy the other. That being the case, the Assembly will sooner or later have to take its courage in hand and draw up a settlement plan that will be fair to both disputants as the circumstances permit—and then back that plan with whatever action may be necessary to enforce it.

Putting off the day of decision will accomplish nothing, except to make the quarrel more bitter, and perhaps arouse hopes which in the end will have to be disappointed.

The sub-committees are quite likely to hand the whole matter back to the Assembly—to whom it belongs—with a recommendation that the majority report of the special committee be accepted as the starting point for working out an arrangement.

Box Office Always Good

Russian Drama Booms As New Season Opens

By Tom Whitney

MOSCOW, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The drama is booming in Russia again, with over 800 amateur theatrical groups in action appearing in all the holidays. There never is any difficulty with the box office in the Russian theatre. All playhouses and operas are always packed and it frequently is difficult to secure tickets at all.

Elsewhere in the world, there are ticket scalpers who resell tickets for two or three times as much as the original price, or as much as the traffic will bear. In Russia, however, the situation is reversed. If they are caught, but there are always new candidates.

The theatre in Russia is big business, much bigger probably than in any other country. This year there are 70 million and professional organizations, including 36 opera and ballet theatres and 42 musical comedy and operetta groups. The city of St. Petersburg has at least one dramatic theatre, and there are 100 amateur groups in the country to perform for people in villages.

In permanent theatres are permanent organizations, each having 10 or 15 plays or operas or ballets in its repertoire.

G. Kalashnikov, chief of the State Committee of Culture, says that about 50,000 actors and actresses are regularly employed.

This figure by no means includes all the actors and actresses in Russia. It does not include those who are amateurs employed by the theatres, or singers, musicians and vaudeville artists employed by radio stations, which have better thousands of staffers.
